REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

SCHOOL YEAR 1951-1952

To the Superintending School Committee and Citizens of the Town of Glenburn:

I present herewith my first annual report on the public schools of Glenburn.

PERSONNEL

Iva Leeman, Ethel Nichols, Grace Bowdoin and Hazel Kelley have continued to do good work in the same schools where they taught last year. Two of your teachers are normal school graduates and the other two have had considerable professional training. All are doing commendable work under conditions which are not ideal.

BUILDINGS

None of the school buildings approaches the standards set for modern classrooms. Some years ago the State gave temporary approval for the use of a room in the Town Hall. This past fall they indicated by letter that the town was expected to make other arrangements. The State has recognized the tremendous financial burden under which many towns were operating during past years, but now that new state subsidy laws have been passed to help relieve this burden, and a new School Authority Act has been passed to enable towns to finance new construction without working an undue hardship on the people, they feel that something should be done to improve the facilities in Glenburn. As a result of these new laws many people in Glenburn have indicated an interest in constructing a new building which would house all the school children in one building. Such a step would result in better educational opportunities for the youth and would eliminate many of the most undesirable features of our present program.

SCHOOL AUTHORITY ACT

This act provides that a majority of the selectmen and a majority of the school committee must act jointly in making an application to the School Building Authority for a loan for construction or remodeling. This application must state the needs of the town and the plan for building. Before the Authority will consider the application the State Department of Education must certify the suitability of the plans submitted. When this is done the Authority will undertake a study of the town's financial condition and its ability to repay the loan on a long term basis. Although this term may be as long as forty years, it is to the town's advantage to repay as fast as feasible. If they are satisfied that the town is able to finance this construction a contract is drawn up and sent back to the town. Before any contract can be signed it MUST be approved by a majority vote of the townspeople in a regular or special town meeting. This feature in the final analysis protects the people who not only will derive the greatest benefits but who also pay the bill.

Due to the fact that there are still legal technicalities to be decided the Authority is not yet ready to receive applications, but when we are notified that they are the people of Glenburn will be given an opportunity to say whether or not they wish to avail themselves of the advantage of this new law.

SCHOOL REPAIRS

If new construction is seriously contemplated during the coming year, I would recommend that repairs be limited to the barest essentials. If no building program is undertaken there are extensive repairs needed on the West Glenburn building and painting jobs to be done in the Center Schools.

SCHOOL STATISTICS

Enrollment as of January 1, 1952

Teacher	Grade								Tot.
	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
Grace Bowdoin	16	19							35
Ethel Nichols			6	18	8				32
Iva Leeman						9	11	12	22
Hazel Kelley	3	3		7	4	7	2	2	28
Total Elementary									117

Secondary Tuition

At the present time there are 33 students attending secondary schools in other towns. In the past the law provided that towns should be reimbursed to the extent of no more than $1,000.00 for tuition paid for secondary pupils. Under the new law Glenburn will be reimbursed to the extent of 65% of the total cost. This will mean a gain of several thousand dollars for Glenburn taxpayers.

New Subsidy Law

Old subsidy laws have been repealed and a new one has been passed to take their place. This law divides towns into nine classes according to the state valuation per resident pupil. Glenburn is in class 1 and will receive reimbursement for educational operating expenditures including transportation, to the extent of 65% of the total.

Conclusion

Teachers may recognize the needs of youth more readily than the average layman, the superintendent may make recommendations, the school committee and the parents may concur, but it is the taxpayer and voter who must make the final decision. New laws are making it possible for many towns to avail themselves of better school facilities for the first time without taking upon themselves a greater tax burden than they reasonably can be expected to bear.

The school committee has considered the possibility of a new building in making up their budget, but it has not allowed for the hiring of an additional teacher. If you wish to plan for this eventuality the school maintenance appropriation should be increased accordingly. All other foreseeable expenditures have been included in their recommendations, but needless to say, if any of these expenses can be eliminated every effort will be made to save the taxpayers' dollars.

I wish to express my appreciation for the keen interest in your schools which has been demonstrated by the school committee, the teachers, town officials and townspeople. Such real concern augurs well for your youth, who after all are the schools only reason for being.

Respectfully submitted,

CLYDE A. HICHBORN,

Supt. of Schools

DIVISION OF PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND WELFARE

January 1 to December 31, 1951

"The foundation of positive health must be built in childhood. Everything we do to assure children a healthy start in life improves the chances of good health in maturity"

The health of the child is started before birth therefore special attention has been given to expectant mothers. Visits have been made to infants and preschool children to guide the parents in the health of their child.

Three Child Health Conferences were held during the summer. Each child was given a physical examination, thirteen were immunized against diphtheria, nine inoculated against whooping cough and twelve against tetanus.

Three children from Glenburn attended Crippled Children's clinic in Bangor. This clinic, as well as Pediatric and Cardiac clinic, is held every month in Bangor under the auspices of the Department of Health and Welfare. Children are referred to these clinics by the family physician through the public health nurse.

Visits are made to the schools and conferences held with the superintendent and teachers. Home visits are made whenever this service is requested.

Patients with communicable diseases are visited and instructions given to prevent the spread of diseases.

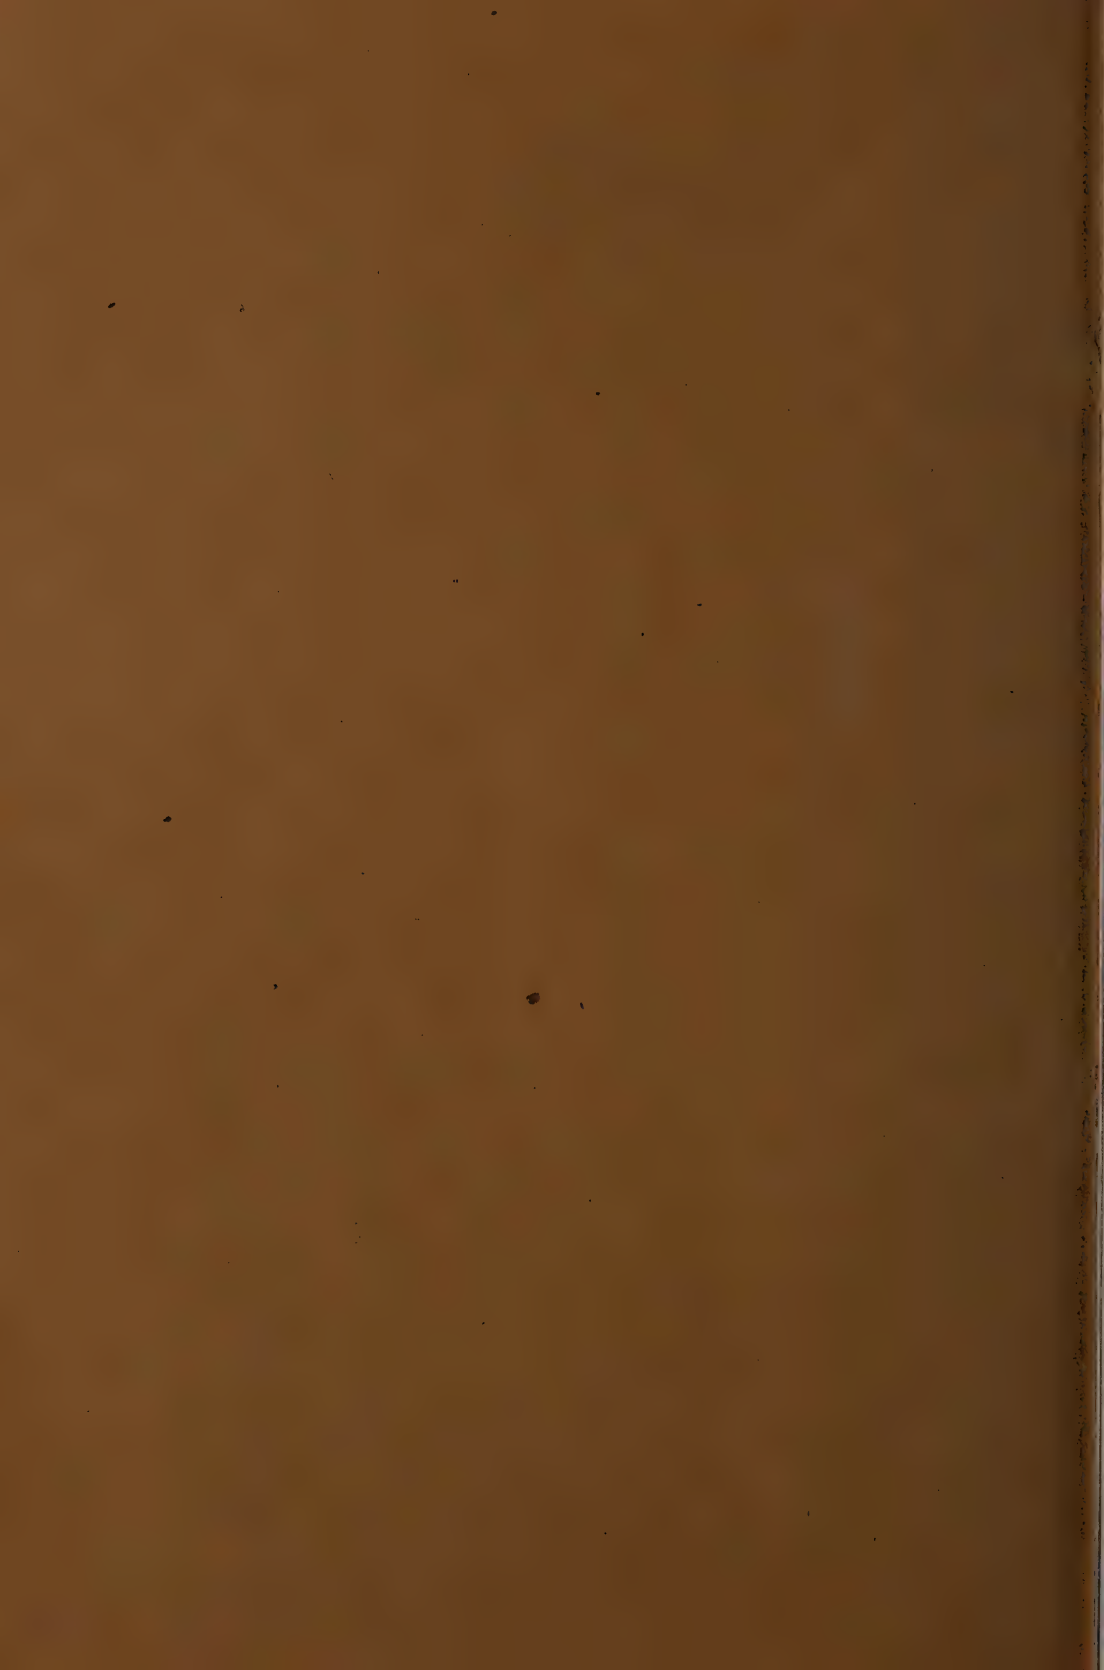

During the coming year an effort will be made to establish a health council to foster better community health through community participation in the health program.

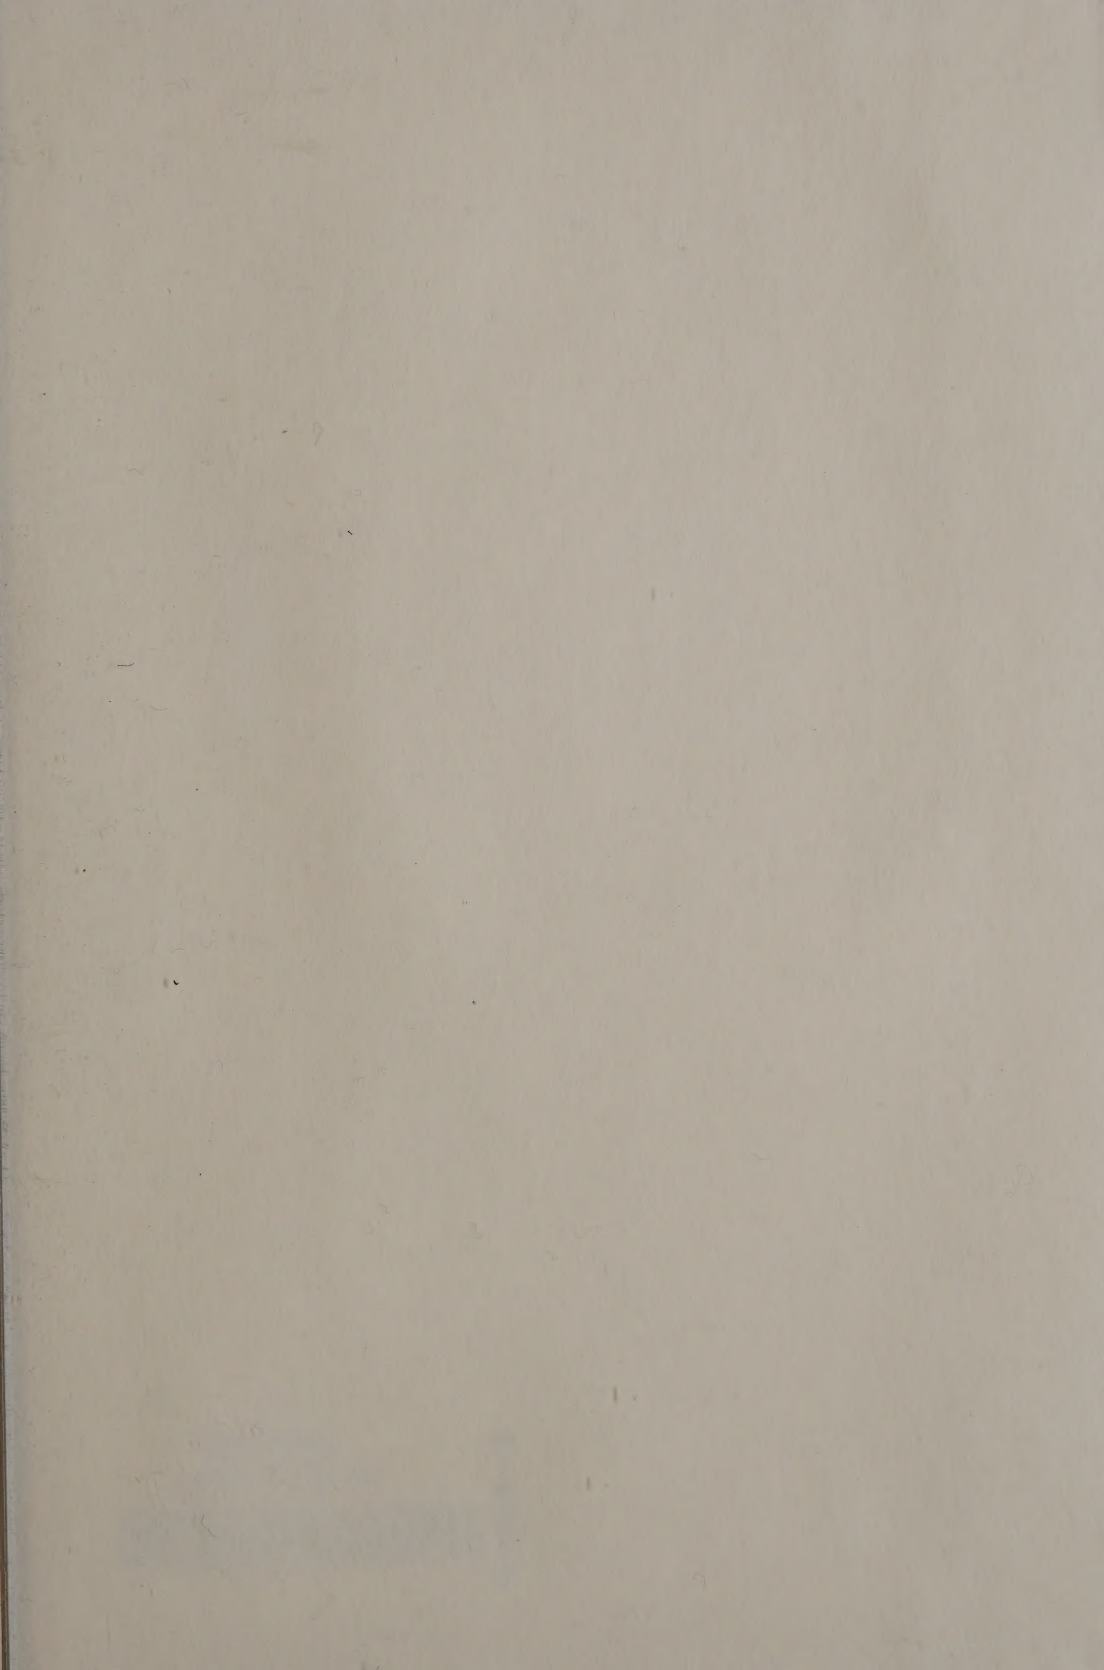

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN H. WEATHERBEE,
